A PORTUGUESE LOVE SONG

MARAQUITA.

Reply to

JUANITA.

Written and Composed by Hon. Mrs: Norton.

With feeling.
Wherefore dearest, my suit deny_ing, Thro' days fast flying of hope and youth
p Cloud my hours with fre_quent sighing Proud_ly scorning my fer_vent truth!

✳ If the large notes are found too low sing the smaller ones instead.

Where_fore teach me to doubt and fear thee! Thro' thine eye_lids love shin_eth now, Oh! bend thou near me, that I may hear thee,

Swear to love me, and keep thy vow! and keep thy vow! Mara_ _qui_ta! Ma_ra_qui_ta! Ay! Ay!

Oh then when passion and youth are o_ver, Tho' bloom and beauty may fade a_way, On

p dove_like pinions shall memo_ry hover And fond_ly hallow this by_gone day. Words long since spoken shall still de_liv_er The ech_oed sweetness of Love's dear tone, And float like music o'er Life's wide riv_er, Thro' sun_sets bright as the
